There is much to see at Acadia . . . and we want you to see it all. It is our hope that you will plan your trip to arrive on the afternoon prior to the sale, to allow time for a complete inspection of the stock bulls, the breeding herd, the sale cattle, and the grand lot of calves coming on for future sales. We will do everything possible to make your stay at Acadia both pleasant and profitable.

— LIKE THIS TYPE? —

This is Acadia Jealous Cathy. After she completes a season of winning in the senior yearling class this year, she will become a part of the permanent Acadia breeding herd. Have you noticed how closely she resembles P S Troubadour in Type. They're both by Calrossie Troubadour. It's the type we like and the type that will be featured in the 1957 Acadia Sale.

A Warm Welcome Awaits You!

Mr. Cyrus Eaton, Chairman of the Board of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and owner of Acadia Farms. Your host on May 18th.

Again we are looking eagerly forward to greeting beef cattle enthusiasts at our 1957 Shorthorn production sale.

The beef cattle business is one of this meat-eating nation's most basic industries. Those of us who raise purebred and registered breeding stock hold the responsible position of fabricating the machine tools upon which the commercial men must rely to raise the quality of their mass product. We purebred breeders all face a constant and exciting challenge to improve our own standards, so that the level of the entire industry may be lifted ever higher. How well we are meeting these demands at Acadia, we should like to have you judge for yourself in person at sale time.

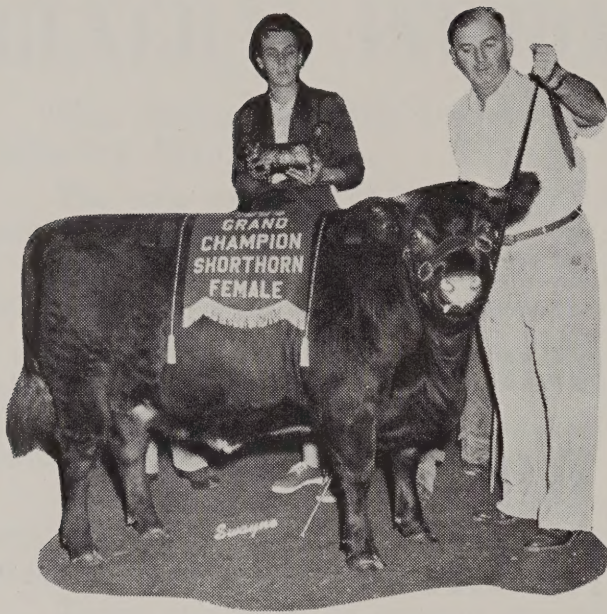

If you plan to attend the sale on Saturday, May 18, we hope you will be able to spend the preceding day at Acadia, too. We want you to allow ample time for leisurely study of the breeding herd and the stock bulls, as well as the sale cattle. The ladies who visit us, we know, will also especially appreciate the beauty of the lilacs, the dogwood and the other flowering trees that should then be at the height of their bloom.

For us, sale time is also the time of happy reunion with our valued friends of the Shorthorn fraternity. We know of no finer group of people engaged in working for a common goal. Whether you are old or new in the Shorthorn business, or merely an interested observer, you will find yourself among congenial companions.

CYRUS EATON

Acadia Farms

P.S. P S Troubadour, 1956 International Grand Champion steer over all breeds, will be our distinguished guest at Acadia on May 17th and 18th.

Two very important people at Acadia Farms and one very important Acadia-bred heifer. The picture shows Betty Royon and Dwight Griffith, vice presidents. The heifer is Acadia Primula 3rd by Calrossie Sportsman, grand champion female at the 1954 National Shorthorn Show, held in connection with the Ohio State Fair.

A Word from Betty Royon, Vice President

These are bright days for the Shorthorn breed. PS Troubadour, the Acadia-bred 1956 International Grand Champion Steer over all breeds, has created limitless new interest in Shorthorns at the scores of stops all along the course of his four-month educational tour of the Eastern United States and Canada.

Naturally, all of us associated with Acadia are gratified that PS Troubadour represents the epitome of our carefully planned, long term breeding program. We were happy when Pennsylvania State University purchased a Calrossie Sportsman heifer, bred to Calrossie Troubadour, in our 1955 Sale, and our pride knew no bounds when the resultant calf was crowned King of Cattleland at Chicago.

Like Calrossie Sportsman and Calrossie Troubadour, Kinellar Napoleon and Balathie Perfect carry a strong infusion of the Kirkton Baronet Bloodlines upon which Acadia has firmly based its breeding program. We confidently believe that you will be impressed with what you see at Acadia at sale time.

BETTY ROYON.

A Word from Dwight Griffith, Manager

All of us at Acadia Farms have worked hard to make our 1957 sale offering the best yet. In my forty years with Shorthorns, I do not remember any sale with a better set of bulls from start to finish than the twelve that we will present in this auction. The females have also won the highest praise from the many visitors who have come to the farms to inspect them critically since the first of the year. I know you will be pleased when you see the entire sale line up for yourself, as well as the breeding herd and the stock bulls.

Let me say a special word about Kinellar Napoleon, the latest addition to our herd bull battery. En route from Scotland, Napoleon saw service at our Deep Cove Farms for a brief time before he came to Acadia last summer. His first calves have arrived in Nova Scotia, and they are veritable chips off the old block. From my own careful examination of these calves, I can tell you they surpass the highest expectations that we held for them.

The Place To Buy Champions is Where Champions Are Bred

Only a select few in the field of animal husbandry ever have bred an International grand champion steer. To Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist and keen student of modern livestock and farming practices, goes the honor of having bred the greatest steer ever to win this coveted award, a Shorthorn named P S Troubadour, winner over all breeds at the 1956 International Live Stock Exposition. The many thousands of us who believe in the superior merits of the Shorthorn breed salute the man who made this possible

In the wake of this great accomplishment comes the 1957 Acadia Sale containing the produce of a herd capable of producing such a famous champion. With the eyes of the world on Acadia productions, those who guide the destinies of this famous herd have met the challenge. This is Acadia's greatest sale offering. The 46 superior individuals in this sale will make it possible for others to travel the path that has brought world wide acclaim to Acadia.

It was a daughter of Calrossie Sportsman carrying the service of Calrossie Troubadour, purchased by Penn State University in the last Acadia Sale that produced the 1956 International grand champion steer. Although these same bloodlines will be found in abundance in this catalog, new lines through the use of the great young imported sires Kinellar Napoleon and Ballathie Perfect have added even greater strength to this current sale offering. Those who attend the sale will be quick to note that the type that won supreme honors for P S Troubadour is reflected in the 46 beautiful individuals in this sale.

It was the request of the owners that no animals be described in this catalog, since they feel that good cattle judges will prefer to analyze the sale offering for themselves on May 18th. Nevertheless the catalog is very informative. Pictures of nearly all sale animals are displayed and a special effort has been made to point out interesting facts about the breeding. I congratulate the owners on making such a strong sale offering available and venture the prediction that those who buy on May 18th will improve their positions in the industry.

History Was Made At This Moment!

Here she is . . . in the sale ring at Acadia Farms on May 21st, 1955 . . . Acadia Queen of Beauty 2nd by Calrossie Sportsman. Herman Purdy, representing Penn State University, knew what she was. He had observed the records of other daughters of Calrossie Sportsman. He had carefully inspected Calrossie Troubadour whose service she was carrying. He knew the calf would carry a winning blood combination. He bought her at $1,150. The calf won the highest possible award in the beef cattle kingdom and sold for the all-time record high of $20.50 per pound, a total of $20,397.50. Some people would call it luck. Smart cattlemen term it "cattle sense." There will be many similiar opportunities for smart cattlemen in the 1957 Acadia Sale. Take advantage of them!

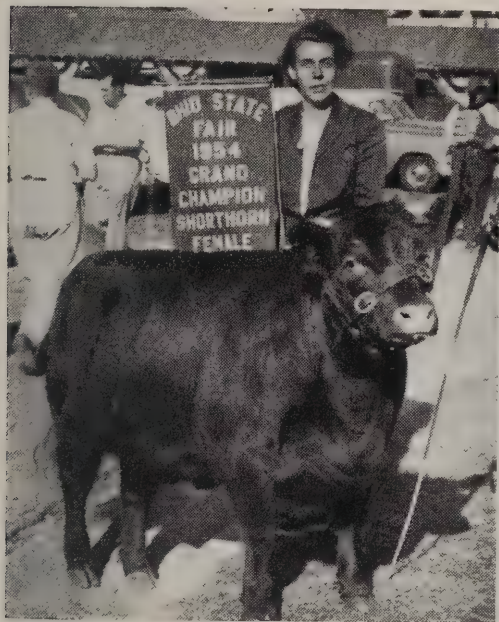

Dwight Griffith, vice president and general manager of Acadia Farms.

Here prize Shorthorns are being paraded before some of the 600 city and farm folks attending Cyrus Eaton's breeding-promoting Cattle Round-Up at Acadia Farms, Northfield, Ohio.

Imported Calrossie Sportsman, was purchased at a cost of $16,500 at the 1950 Perth, Scotland, Show and Sale, after winning second in class to the Reserve Supreme Champion and high-selling bull. In the ensuing seven years at Acadia Farms, he has sired champions in each crop of calves. His sons and grandsons are in successful service in a score of states and Canada, while his daughters rank high among the best brood matrons of the breed. A typical daughter, Acadia Queen of Beauty 2d, produced and raised PS Troubadour, 1956 International Grand Champion Steer over all breeds. Sportsman breeding had previously made its mark in International steer competition in 1954, when calves by his oldest son won the open inter-breed senior calf championship and the two top junior yearling prizes of the junior show. The numbers of the Sportsman females have been built up in the herd to the point where eleven daughters can be spared for this sale, but this will be absolutely the last opportunity for other breeders to avail themselves liberally of Sportsman daughters.

Imported Calrossie Troubadour, sire of the 1956 International Grand Champion Steer over all breeds, was purchased at the 1954 Perth, Scotland, Sale. He was selected specifically to follow imported Calrossie Sportsman, from the standpoint of both individuality and bloodlines. To his first son, PS Troubadour, was given the opportunity, under the banner of Pennsylvania State University, to demonstrate the fitness of the choice. The spectacular tale of PS Troubadour's triumphs now belongs to history: how he won the supreme award of cattledom, brought the all-time record price, traveled farther and was seen and admired, in person and on television, by more people than have ever before viewed any beef cattle celebrity. Calrossie Troubadour's second oldest son, Acadia Highland Classic, has recently taken his place as stock bull at Ohio State University. The next six sons, one of them Polled are features of this sale.

Imported Kinellar Napoleon won the fitting accolade of glamour bull of the 1956 Perth, Scotland, Show and Sale, where he topped the sale at $25,500 after being crowned Reserve Supreme Champion. Among those who have since bought other sons of Gallant Marshal to head their herds are Calrossie, Bapton and Drynie, three of Scotland's strongest Shorthorn establishments.

All who have seen Napoleon on both sides of the Atlantic pronounce him the ideal of a breeder's bull in every respect. His first calves have arrived at Deep Cove Farms, and they thoroughly fulfill the high expectations that have been held for them. A large part of the females entered in this sale carry the service of Kinellar Napoleon.

IMP. KINELLAR
NAPOLEON—

the glamour
bull of the 1956 Perth Sale
now at Acadia

From the March 1, 1956 issue of The Shorthorn World

"From one of the most spirited bidding battles in the 41-year history of the famed Perth, Scotland, Shorthorn Show and Sale, Cyrus Eaton's Acadia Farms of Northfield, Ohio, emerged the winner and new owner of Kinellar Napoleon, $25,500 top-priced reserve senior champion of the 1956 auction. Runnerup for the Napoleon bull was Willie MacGillivray, bidding on behalf of his own Glastullich herd and his father's Calrossie herd. Prominent among the score of other eager contenders were the Anderson brothers of Burnton, Kair and Morphie, and Duncan Stewart of Millhills. The ringside consensus was that Napoleon wears the best head seen at Perth in many years, and that his rugged bone, short legs, depth of body, thickness and fleshing are the perfect match for his wealth of character, so that Scottish breeders were reluctant to let him go to an overseas buyer.

"Kinellar Napoleon, . . . won championships at four major shows in Scotland in 1955, to parallel closely the phenomenal calfhood record of his three-year-old sire, Gallant Marshal, favored by expert Scottish cattlemen as a prospective leading herd sire ever since his spectacular debut on the show circuit as a calf in 1953.

"Gallant Marshal's early promise was more than fulfilled by the 1956 performance of his sons at Perth for breeder-owners Sylvester Campbell & Sons of Aberdeenshire. In concededly one of the strongest Perth bull shows of all times, entries by Gallant Marshal won three first prizes in individual classes, took the reserve senior and reserve junior championships, and then went on to sweep the groups by capturing the Auctioneer's Cup for best three bulls, the Pittodrie Cup for best three bulls by same sire and the Lovat Cup for best five bulls, in rapid succession. The five high-selling sons of Gallant Marshal at Perth realized $71,700, for an average of $14,340."

Imported Ballathie Perfect, whose calves were a sensation of the 1956 show circuit, was selected at the 1953 Perth Sale, where he stood second in a strong class of 29 bulls. Because of the embargo of that time on shipments from Scotland to North America, Perfect did not reach North America until autumn, when he was placed in service at Deep Cove Farms. His first son, Deep Cove Baronet, was sold for a four-figure price after winning numerous championships. Perfect arrived at Acadia Farms in June, 1954, so that his oldest American-bred calves were not ready for exhibition until 1956. Perfect's progeny practically swept the classes at their first show, the 1956 Ohio State Shorthorn-Polled Shorthorn Futurity, and went on to make a strong stand throughout the state fair circuit. Featured in this sale are two of his champion sons, along with thirteen of his top daughters.

Acadia Battleship.

Reserve Junior Champion Bull of the 1956 Ohio State Shorthorn-Polled Shorthorn Futurity, where Acadia Bonn, also by Ballathie Perfect, was Junior and Grand Champion. Battleship also formed a key member of the winning Perfect get-of-sire and pair of yearlings on the 1956 state fair circuit. His power-packed pedigree contains two crosses of Kirkton Baronet, along with a strong infusion of Bapton Commando. This imported Butterfly family has been a mainstay of the Acadia herd.

Grand Champion and top selling female of the 1954 Illinois State Show and Sale, his dam was a consistent class winner on the 1954 state fair circuit, and was named Reserve Junior Champion at the 1954 Kentucky State Fair, where another Acadia entry was Junior Champion. Acadia wishes to reserve the right to show Acadia Highland Prince.

Have you noticed that the footnotes in this catalog deal only with the pedigrees? Acadia is perfectly willing to accept your judgment as to the individuality of each animal. We could describe all of them in glowing terms because they all seem to show wonderful promise. However, it's your opinion that counts . . . and we don't believe you will be disappointed.

One of the last of the sought-after daughters of imported Calrossie Sportsman that will be sold, and one of the stars of the 1955 and 1956 Acadia show herds. A consistent class winner, she was reserve junior champion at the 1955 Kentucky State Fair (where another Acadia entry by Sportsman was junior and grand champion female) and was a key member of the undefeated Sportsman get on the 1955 State Fair Circuit, while she was crowned 1956 Kentucky State senior champion and 1956 New York State reserve senior champion. From her dam, she claims a rich inheritance of International and Perth championship breeding. Elmhurst Princess was perhaps the best brood cow in the late F. S. Acadia Farms . . .

is the 800-acre property of industrialist Cyrus Eaton at Northfield, Ohio, midway between the great cities of Cleveland and Akron. Mr. Eaton lives at Acadia the year around, and devotes part of every day to farming activities despite the myriad demands of his widespread industrial interests.

Mr. Eaton is also the owner of 3000-acre Deep Cove Farms at Upper Blandford, Nova Scotia, Canada. The Acadia

Shorthorn herd numbers more than 300 head, while a smaller herd of approximately 100 head is maintained at Deep Cove.

Acadia Farms is made up of ten farmsteads. Its 250 acres of blue grass pastureland are divided into 11 pastures, each well-shaded and amply supplied with clear running water from springfed brooks. Three hundred and fifty acres of cropland are under cultivation at Acadia, and the balance of the property is in timberland, much of it virgin forest.

Assisting Mr. Eaton in the operation of his lands and livestock are Miss Betty Royon, Vice President of Acadia and Deep Cove Farms, Dwight Griffith, Vice President and General Manager of Acadia and Deep Cove Farms, and Donald McGlashan, Assistant Manager of Acadia Farms. Miss Royon is a Director of the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association. Mr. Eaton also has the capable assistance of Thomas, Harvey and Ruby Zinck at Deep Cove, while Alfred, Andrew and Edward Mackie work with the herd at Acadia.

Out of cows like these come the kind you will buy in this sale . . . providing perfect assurance of the ability to reproduce unfailingly.

One of the best daughters of Deep Cove Farms' senior stock bull, Hayard Monarch, 1948 Canadian Royal Reserve Grand Champion Bull and sire of countless champions. Her dam is an imported-in-dam cow that has regularly produced topnotch calves at Deep Cove, and is out of the same great imported brood matron that produced Deep Cove Ironclad Monarch 4th, sold at $1725 to Nils Aspaas, Baltic, S. Dak., at the 1956 International Sale, after being crowned Grand Champion Bull over all breeds at the 1956 Northern Maine Fair and Grand Champion Bull at the 1956 Maritime Winter Fair, the two strongest shows in eastern North America.

Bred to imported Kinellar Napoleon, glamour bull of the 1956 Perth Sale.

A famous Acadia group. Five female members of the Primula family.

In many respects this is the most important sale of the year. When Dean Weber, world famous judge of beef cattle, named P S Troubadour as the International grand champion steer over all breeds, he placed the stamp of approval on the type produced in Cyrus Eaton's great Acadia Herd. Such a momentous decision pointed the way to the 1957 Acadia Sale as the source of supply for seed stock capable of propagating this type. To meet the challenge, the strongest offering in the history of this famous herd has been provided for the sale to be held at the farm on Saturday, May 18. This is YOUR opportunity! Will you take advantage of it?

One of the last of the sought-after daughters of imported Calrossie Sportsman that will be sold, and a good one. Her dam, from one of western Canada's strongest herds, combines the best Gallinger bloodlines, on her sire's side, with imported Kinellar and Coldoch breeding, through her dam.

Bred to imported Kinellar Napoleon, glamour bull of the 1956 Perth Sale.

The Travels of Troubadour . . .

Shown in this picture are: P S Troubadour, the impressive 1956 International inter-breed grand champion steer; Truman Wright, manager of The Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, who purchased the steer for a record price of $20.50 a pound; and Ann Bullock, International Lassie Queen from La Plata, Missouri.

This chapter on the life and travels of P S Troubadour appears in this catalog because:

- 1. He was bred at Acadia Farms
- 2. The blood that produced him is a feature of this sale.
- 3. He represents the true Acadia type.
- 4. He is the greatest steer in beef cattle history.

Bred by Acadia Farms, fed and exhibited by Penn State University, P S Troubadour has been acclaimed by famous judges as the greatest steer in beef cattle history... the type toward which we must all aim. His Sire, Calrossie Troubadour, and his dam's sire, Calrossie Sportsman, are still actively in service at Acadia Farms and this sale will feature their blood.

At the International Show in Chicago and on his subsequent tour of twelve states and Canada, hundreds of thousands of people have studied and admired him. From any angle, front, side or rear, he is a marvel for balance, character, thickness and quality of fleshing.

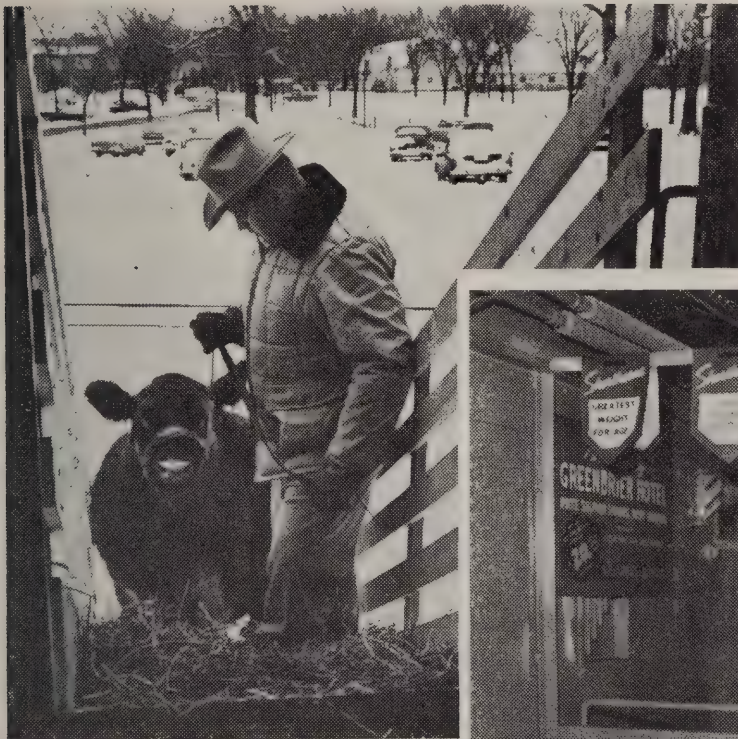

Radio reporters quickly moved in to interview Penn State Professor Herman Purdy, Judge A. D. Weber and Penn State Herdsman Dick Sour just after Dean Weber awarded the Grand Championship rosette to P S Troubadour at the 1956 International Live Stock Exposition.

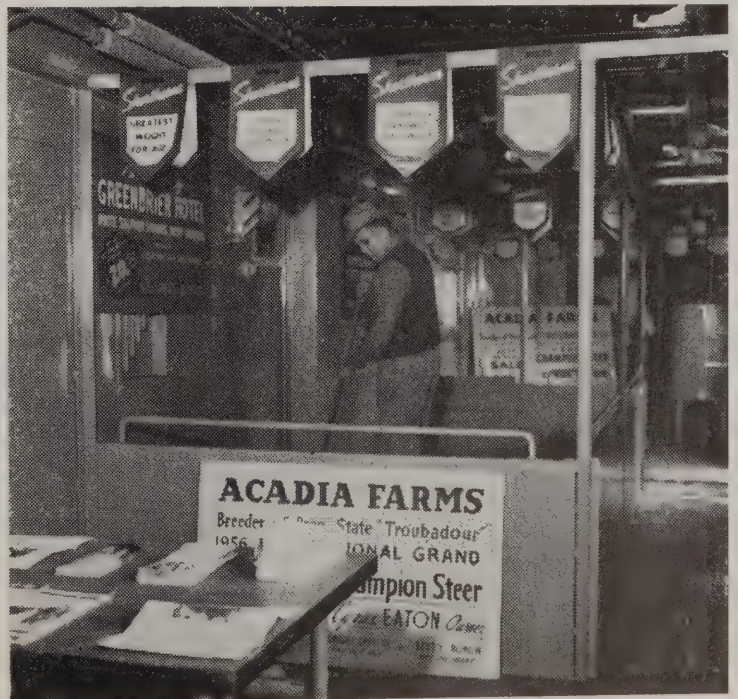

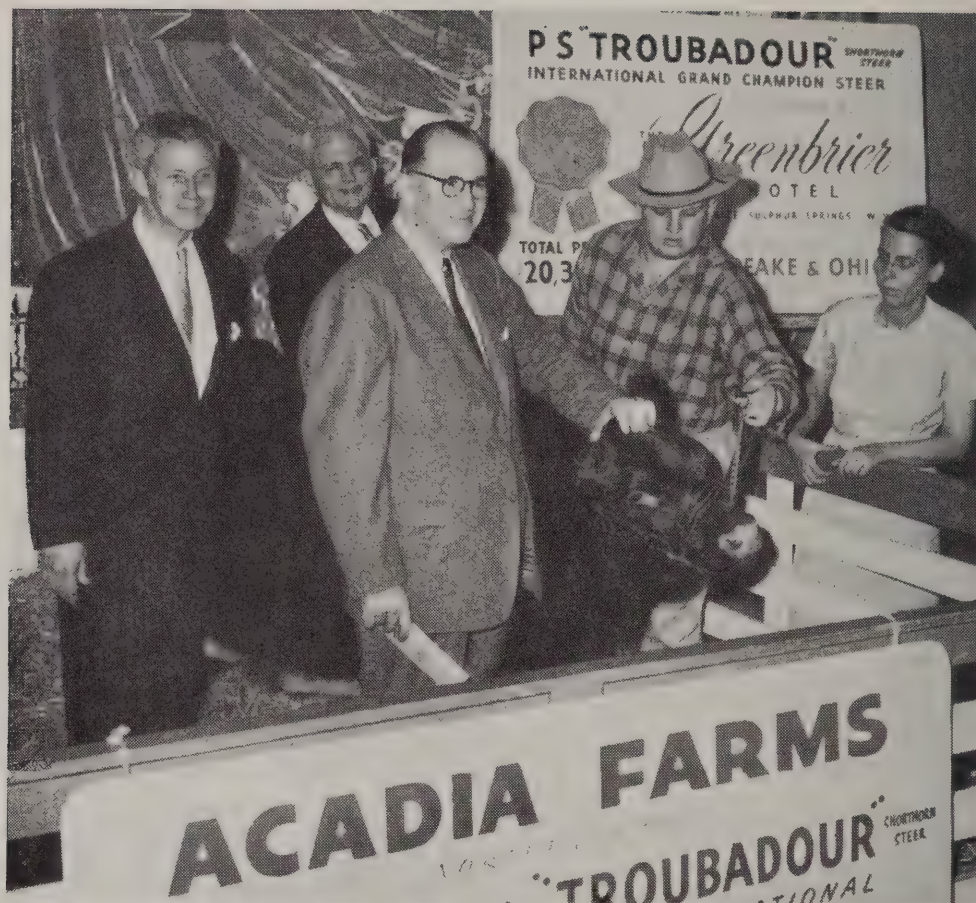

The Lassie Queens, Miss Betty Royon of Acadia, Dick Sour and Herman Purdy with the Champ. Here Troubadour puts his new Elgin trophy to good use.

He traveled in the style that befitted a king and Henry Gruber of Penn State gave him the best of care.

And then P S Troubadour started on his long tour through twelve states and Canada . . . that cattle-men everywhere might study the type most in demand.

Here he is at Cornell University with Fieldman Ed Huff extolling his virtues.

And here he is at the Ohio Shorthorn Week program with Lassie Queen Marianne Huffman, Governor O'Neill of Ohio and Betty Royon of Acadia Farms.

Through the medium of television millions have marveled over P S Troubadour and his many appearances have made him a real trouper. Here he is with Betty Royon and television star Garry Moore rehearsing for the CBS network television program at the Citrus Exposition.

After a long, hard day of showing himself to thousands, he is as fresh as a daisy as he returns to his Chesapeake & Ohio palace car.
